HOSPITAL FORMALLY OPENED.

Meeting of the Directors Was Held

Last Night. The West Side hospital was declared formally opened, yesterday. It will, however, be a week or ten days before it will be ready for the reception of

At a meeting of the directors yesterday afternoon Martin Smith was placed in charge and the preliminaries arranged for the beginning of active work. There were present at the meeting Hon. John R. Farr, who presided, Hon. J. C. Vaughan, W. Gaylord Thomas, W. H. Freeman, D. D. Evans, Liewellyn Roberts, William Farrell and Dr. M. J. Wil-Hams. In the absence of Secretary Alfred Twining Dr. Williams looked after the minutes.

A committee consisting of Charles Olver and George Skillhorn from Globe lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, was present and consulted with the board in regard to having a room fixed up for their use.

On Monday a party of ladies under the direction of Matron Smith will spend a day sewing for the hospital. Sewing machines will be placed in the hospital and it is thought all the linen can be prepared in one day by this combined work or "bee," Another day will be given up to the arrangement of the furnishings and to the stocking of the cellar and kitchen.

PROGRAMME OF UNION SERVICES

Union religious services will be held next week on this side as follows: Monday evening in the Plymouth Congregational chapel at 7.45 p. m., conducted by Rev. J. P. Moffatt; subject, "Humiliation and Thanksgiving." Tuesday in the First Baptist church, Scranton street, 7.45, conducted by Rev. J. B. Sweet; subject, "The Universal Church." Wednesday in the Washburn Street Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. S. F. Matthews; subject, "Nations and Rulers." Thursday in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church, led by Rev. T. Bell; subject, "Missions." Friday in the First Welsh Congregational, a great meeting of all the churches is being planned for the consideration of the union subject, "Familles and Schools." The public is most cordially invited to these week of prayer union services. The subjects to be considered are the same used the world over during this week. It is hoped the Christian and church people will attend in large numbers. The four English churches uniting earnestly hope for great success. And also on the Friday night it is hoped all churches will unite. Rev. J. B. Sweet, Rev. J. Moffatt, Rev. S. F. Matthews, Rev. T. Bell.

The Jackson Street Baptist church declined to unite in the week of prayer union services.
